Accepted and reviewed new mail from Coppermark PA, which is an estimate in the amount of $68,604.34.

PA submitted documents that is over 300 pages. Because file is so large, CS is unable to drop file to ECS. PA is requesting an additional inspection.

TM reviewed claim and denied 2nd inspection due to ADPL shown. PH was adamant that roof had hail damaged and SF hired engineer. Onsite engineer inspection found no ADPL to shingles. CS agrees with claim decision.

Placed call back to PA to advise. Spoke with Lauren and she requested denial letter. CS advised emailing to her. Drop filed.

Claim Number: 36-13Z0-28D

RBZ00015

Spoke with NI Donald LeJeune and went over claim decision. NI is adamant that he has roof damage, as evidenced by the estimate for damage to soft metals, and therefore his entire roof needs to be replaced. I explained that soft metals are more likely to be damaged than shingles and that it is difficult to determine when they were damaged, whereas a shingle impact age can be determined more readily due to greying out/fibers being present. NI is adamant that both contractors and State Farm have indicated he has damage to his roof and that there is no way we can determine age of impacts. I offered to have an engineer inspect the roof, both to determine if hail damage to shingles existed and, if so, approximately how old the damages may be. NI first stated that he didn't want an engineer to come out unless I could guarantee State Farm would be replacing his roof, and I advised that I could not guarantee that and that would defeat the entire purpose of hiring an engineer to make a determination in the first place. I explained that if the engineer found the presence of recent hail damage in enough quantity to necessitate replacing the roof, that we would do so. But likewise, if they did not find damage from within the last year or in enough quantity to replace, we would not. NI decided he does want an engineer to review. David, please secure an engineer and have them reach out to NI to schedule an inspection while he is present. Thanks.

Received a call from Mr. Lejeune upset with findings. I explained that no additional damage was noted from the roofers photos and it would not warrant a 2nd inspection. He disagreed and stated that since his vent caps were estimated for the shingles must be estimated for. I explained that aluminum is easier to damage than the comp shingles. He asked to speak with management.
